Stages of Active Reading:
1. Get perspective
2. First Reading
3. Review of First Reading
4. Second Reading
Do Assigned Reading

1. Get Perspective
   ● Review the assignment in the syllabus (1-2 min)
     Maybe you get to skip some sections
   ● SURVEY the Chapter (2-5 min)
     Met the big picture, how is the text organized
   ● LOOK at pictures & graphs; read captions (2-5min)
   ● NO NOTES during this phase
Do Assigned Reading

2. First Reading

Main purpose – read & get a good idea of material. What do you understand?

- Look at graphics/tables while you read
- As you read check for understanding
- Take a break if you get tired
- Take organized notes
Do Assigned Reading

3. Review of First Reading

• Return to what you do not understand or want to reinforce
• Mark or highlight what you think is important. Develop a system (“D” for definition, “A” for argument, “?” for confused)
• Find vocabulary you do not know
• Summarize or draw pictures of concepts learned
Do Assigned Reading

4. Second Reading

- Reread material you did not understand
- If you continue to have trouble, seek out tutorials or videos
WHAT Notes Should You Take While Reading?

• Big ideas: what main ideas are reflected in the introduction, conclusion, abstract, and section titles? Be sure to record all relevant details of the big ideas in the text as you read the entire piece.

• Follow visual cues: main ideas will often be bolded, italicized, bulleted, set in different font sizes, color, and/or spacing. Additionally, illustrations, figures, tables, charts, diagrams, and the corresponding captions elaborate on key ideas. Use these to determine the significance of concepts, and to take notes accordingly.

• What's repeated: concepts, formulas, facts, and processes mentioned more than once in the piece are likely significant.
HOW Should You Take Notes

Your optimal style may include the following:

• Dating your notes, and provide a heading that describes the piece's overall content.

• Numbering the pages of your notes.

• Paraphrasing instead of writing verbatim - writing in your own words, except for formulas, definitions, and specific facts (i.e. involving dates), which should be recorded exactly as in the text.

• Using consistent abbreviations and symbols.

• Developing an ideal organizational format, like an outline, map, table, or notecards, depending on content.

• Leaving room in the margins for additional thoughts or questions.

• Typing your notes, which can be used for exam-studying, once you have clarified any ambiguities.
How to Take Notes During Class

Students write down each PowerPoint slide word for word, and constantly ask to go back a slide so they could finish copying.

Complain that class runs long.

5 Rs of Note Taking

Record
During the lecture, record meaningful facts and ideas

Reduce
As soon as possible after class, summarize these ideas

Recite
Cover the Main Note Area and using only the Key Words or Summary recall as much of the information as you can.

Reflect
Thinking about the information will give you the opportunity to make connections that are not easy to see in the beginning.

Review
10 minutes after every class and reviewing notes, will help you retain most of what you have learned and prevent the need for "all-nighters"
How to Study for Tests

- Active vs. Passive studying – use your senses
- Textbook practice problems
- Online quizzes
- Teach a sibling, parent, or even your pet
- Synthesize notes AGAIN
How to be successful

1. Figure out what works for you
2. Make a plan
3. Stick to your plan
